PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Enjoying the weather? It has certainly been beautiful thus far. Our bi-annual Educational Symposium, held at Brown University and the Ladd Observatory in Providence, RI, was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all. This was a "good one." Another good one, we hope, will be the "Ask an Expert" workshop at this upcoming meeting. Bring your watch and clock questions and get answers (read more, page 2).

We are still looking for new locations at which to hold our meetings. Please let me know if you have a suitable location near you. Since this is my last President's message for this year, I would like to take this opportunity to extend to you the best wishes for a happy holiday season from the Officers and Directors of Chapter 8. See you in Auburn. Bring a friend!

Joe Seremeth

WORKSHOPS AND PROGRAMS

9:00 AM. “The Influence of the Great London Exposition on the development of Precision Time Keeping.” Jon Weber will provide an overview of the renowned watch and clock makers invited to this first international gathering of leaders and consumers from all of the areas where the industrial revolution were running at full speed. He will discuss how this gathering may have accelerated the development of precision watches. Jon (PhD – Physics) worked mostly in optical engineering for most of his career generating six patents. Jon has several articles published in the Bulletins and one in-press for “Chronometrophelia.” His interests in horology are precision time keeping and its development, as well as repair and restoration of watches. Since 1972, Jon has been a NAWCC member.

10:30 AM. “Most Everything You Wanted to Know about Clocks and Watches.” Several Chapter 8 council members will form a moderated panel to answer your horological questions. This workshop will be an open-forum session for questions and discussions with audience participation encouraged. Our newest council member, Jack Brady, will moderate the panel consisting of Chris Carey, Larry Chelmow, Wayne Paskerian, and Dave Deutermann. Since we also have case restoration skills (wood, brass, and gold leafing) within this knowledgeable and diverse panel, bring those questions too. Due to space limitations in this notice, the panels’ biographies are not stated here, but will be verbally given at this workshop.

12:00 Noon. Lunch.

12:45 PM. “The Missing Harrison.” Bob Frishman had in his shop last year, a unique and unusual English bracket clock signed, "John Harrison," on its silvered dial. This clock was last seen in 1940 when it was sold in New York City. With eminent horologist Will Andrewes, whose book on Harrison included the clock's grainy 1940 catalog photo, Bob authored a detailed article in Antiquarian Horology about this missing clock, and a related article in a future Bulletin issue. Bob Frishman is a Chapter 8 past-president and has made several presentations to our chapter. He has repaired, sold and studied antique timekeepers since 1980, and his business, Bell-Time Clocks, is based in Andover, Mass. His articles appear frequently in the Bulletin, and he lectures regularly on many aspects of horology. More about Bob is at www.bell-time.com.

IN MEMORY OF BOB FRASCATORE

It is with sadness that we report the recent death of Bob Frascatore. He was known by most members because of his extensive knowledge, restoration, and collection of banjo clocks. If you attended the May Willard House workshop, you would remember the passion that Bob brought to his banjo clocks' presentation.
